took place in Stirling on Saturday last, between the Stirling team and the Albert College team. The college boys were handicapped by the smallness of the ground, but perhaps did not display their usual form. The game was close and vigorous, each contested the issue keenly, in doubt all the time. Owing to the short distance between one of the goals was played much in front of the goal and some fine defence work was seen. A rain storm stopped the play near the finish with the teams a tie, as soon as the rain cleared the game recommenced and Albert scored in a few minutes, winning the

The Hamilton Jockey Club races open to-morrow, and will last for 10 days.

At the Chess Room on Saturday afternoon, chess dropped off a little, but was still going on better than the day before. The drop in price was owing to the increased offerings, there being 32 boxes there shown offered on Saturday than at the corresponding time on Friday, and the bidding exceedingly dull. A few of the items were very full, but of the others a great majority were poorer.

The president, in a little address, said that he was glad to see that we had not been just "pulling off" and "announcing" that such and such a thing was going to be accomplished in the future. All features must carry out rule 15, which provides that no feature shall be carried over from one year to the next, but must be sold day, under penalty of suspension, expulsion or fine. The foundation on which we are building against this practice, as it is called, is that it has a tendency to demoralize the mating circles.

Many people realize the intimate relation between the mind and the stomach. Worry and excessive mental work react on the digestive system, while on the other hand the greatest cause of nerve and brain overstrain is a weak or faulty digestion.

Just as, when you find that your food is not properly digested, that it tastes bitter, that the tongue is furrowed, the breath is foul, the appetite poor, the head occasionally dull and aching, begin the use of Mellin's Food.

This reliable remedy contains no opium, and is an absolute strengthening agent.

It is not a patent medicine, and the formula is furnished to physicians, druggists, and all intelligent people who may desire it. Mento-na is superior to any other remedy popular in its lasting effects.

It is sold in 10-cent and 50-cent boxes. The 10-cent box contains 10 boxes of the drug. It will be sent by mail, prepaid, on receipt of price. Write for advice on your case from a stomach specialist which will be sent free. The R. T. Rooth Company, Ithaca, N. Y.

A Battle In the Sea. The boy never sees bloodhairs charge a school of menhaden at sea? That is the worst working condition the bloodhairs face. Their lives for food usually are surrounded the menhaden, and they can then sink and rear. The menhaden fairly make the water boil in efforts to escape, while all around is in at this tearing relentless.

Into all this competition comes a school of menhaden all herded by its beards. It swims leisurely but is the midst of them, opens its mouth sharks in half a dozen menhaden at a pop. It swarms around and bites out a dozen more from the school. It is itself without effort. But the menhaden are not nearly as much divided by the presence of the monster swimming about among them as they are by the charging bluefish. The shark can eat half a dozen fish or more at a time while the bluefish only bites a couple out of a single fish, but there is one shark, while there may be hundreds of bluefish plunging and tearing incessantly and killing and eating at every stroke. The shark's jaws, but every

A Photographic Warning.—The following story of a young lady in the country who came to town to be photographed is told by P. and rounded for by a well known London photographer. After days the lady, Miss B., was asked the photograph was not a success, and another sitting was arranged. This she agreed to, but again was informed that the photograph was sure. There was a third sitting. Three days' time she received a letter from the photographer.

The pictures of herself were quite good, but in the plate there was to be seen standing behind her the figure of a man with a dagger in his uplifted hand. The features, though faint, were clear—recognizable. And Miss E. recognized those of her fiancé, an officer in the Indian army. The effect of this was so great that, after a day she wrote to India, breaking the engagement.

The Trap. Trap shooting has made America a land of straight shooters, and no country in the world can compare with the United States in shooting. One class in America are directly responsible for that reputation which Uncle Sam in property bears. The American practice at its best is largely the result of the country's call to arms. One class are really the outcome of the abundance of live game in America. The average business man has to be a trap shooter in order to get a living. He is limited to perhaps once a year, and during the interval he has but his "shooting eye". He needed practice to keep his eye keener and properly, and in order to be accurate at long range some moments he organized the country for trap shooting. He could get all the practice he needed—recognition.

Disappointed Students. In the disintegration of radium by the action of helium, a small amount of energy set free is 1,000,000,000 great calories for one gram of radium. Now to reconstruct the disintegration process would require as much energy as was lost in the disintegration, and so explains the hopelessness of their attempts as so much moment of energy can be employed. How were these elements first created? That is a question for the student. A German physicist, W. Jäger, suggested that the disintegration of elements is an actually irreversible process, like the dissipation of heat.

Anti Eggs. Anti eggs are considered a choice dish in some countries. They are served upon a slice of bread and butter, and are considered a delicacy. Just as Bad. A clergyman visited the choir leader. "Can't you do something to arouse the interest of the men in the choir?" "Yes," said the leader. "I could put a widow in it, but then all the women would lose interest."

The custom and fashion of today will be the antiquities and curiosities of tomorrow. So arbitrary are these transient laws.—Dumas.

The Trap. Trap shooting has made America a land of straight shooters, and no country in the world can compare with the United States in shooting. One class in America are directly responsible for that reputation which Uncle Sam in property bears. The American practice at its best is largely the result of the country's call to arms. One class are really the outcome of the abundance of live game in America. The average business man has to be a trap shooter in order to get a living. He is limited to perhaps once a year, and during the interval he has but his "shooting eye". He needed practice to keep his eye keener and properly, and in order to be accurate at long range some moments he organized the country for trap shooting. He could get all the practice he needed—recognition.

DEBTORS' PARADISE.

The Plan of Living on Credit is Simple.

John Enders' latest dictum that England is the best country in the world for people who want to get into debt is borne out by business experts, says the London Mail, who emphasize the use with which it is possible to obtain credit in this country.

The master of Messrs. Bland's collecting agency recently expressed much interest with John Enders.

"One reason why debtors find England so profitable a place," he said, "is because of the facilities they are given for crediting payment. The country proceeds here is a slow and constant flowing of the most necessary articles from other countries, which makes up his mind to do so and avoid payment altogether.

"A man who has the necessary credit with us, then, business connection has much to do with it.

The great advertising firms, who sell everything from furniture to jewelry on the installment plan, are partly responsible for the fact that the country on credit goes to the local tradesmen, who sell everything on credit, and the installment firm. Eventually come the country court proceedings and the power police who are so good to the debtors.

"Many advertising firms sell on credit, merely asking for a small down payment, and on no occasion do they ask about the customer. I have a man who has been with me for years, and has provided himself with both the necessities and comforts of life for years on credit.

"The paper and lower classes find it easy to get into debt to the middle classes. The army of peddling travelers sell goods, varying from tea to jewelry, on credit, and are so good to the debtors. The great and small of the system. Artistic customers must be able to get into debt on credit.

ion, dress, hats, and shoes. The Presbyterian Drawback.

London, June 8.—The reports on the various (British and Western) churches, which attracted the attention of the House of Commons, yesterday morning, Mr. Balfour, said, reviewed the financial position of the churches. The drawback to work was said to be $100,000. There was every cause for encouragement. The largest record ever on increase was $100,000. The Lord's Day school reports were commended, except those comprising the Jews.

Thomas McCormack Dead.

London, June 8.—Thomas McCormack, head of the McCormack Manufacturing Co., died in Chicago yesterday morning on his way home from California, where he had been visiting his son-in-law, Mr. McCormack had been prominent in business circles for thirty years, and had accumulated a fortune estimated at only a million dollars.

Deaths From Heat.

London, June 8.—Yesterday was the warmest day of the year thus far in London, and in temporary heat it was 81 degrees at 3 o'clock. The heat caused the death of six persons and the prostration of several.

Kansas City, June 8.—Two deaths from the heat occurred here yesterday. The highest temperature recorded here was 84 degrees.

Directors' Privilege.

To Declare Such Profits as They Desired In Canada Life.

Attorney Sanderson Spends Another Day Before the Insurance Commissioners—Profits of Company for 1905 Were $905,000 of Which $343,000 Was Used For Getting New Business.

Toronto, June 8.—Mr. Holburn, counsel for the President of Directors, questioned the Canada Life actuary, Mr. J. H. Foster, who had reported before the Insurance Commissioners, on the basis of income, and the value of expenses and loading. He took up many different kinds of policies.

Mr. Holburn will finish with Mr. Sanderson, the morning, and the Imperial Life officials will be called next.

Yesterday, June 7.—The Government members made merry yesterday afternoon over the trial of Mr. Foster's complaint respecting the label by La Presse.

When Mr. Clugmire appeared at the bar he was greeted with loud applause, and there was a disposition to howl down Mr. Foster when he started that the clerk for the House should read the libelous article. The article, which was read in French, and Mr. Jackson (Liberal) moved to read it in English. The Opposition objected to this, as the article was not in the House.

After some debate the whole affair was dropped for a week. This will probably end the matter.

Marine Department Under Fire.

The House considered the Yukon placer mining bill and also Mr. Broderick's bill respecting the harbor of Quebec.

The House worked industriously in spite of the evening session. The Marine Department was under fire, and Mr. Broderick's bill was amended, as the criticisms directed against the bill were paid for amendments. He declared that he was tired of being held responsible for accounts certified to by Treasury officials, and intimated that he might resign a few days.

An estimate was passed allowing $40,000 for damages caused by the explosion at Kingston in April, 1905, when four sailors on the boat were killed.

Fatal Accident On Pinnacle Street This Afternoon

GERALD KINKER, A SIX-YEAR-OLD BOY, HAD HIS HEAD CRUSHED BY A BUILDING INSIDE WHIOT HE AND A COMPANION WERE PLAYING.

Bald and evil was the death which came this afternoon to little Gerald Kinker, son of Mr. George Kinker, builder, of this city.

The little fellow, who would have been six years old on the 8th of this month, was with a companion, about 14½ this afternoon, playing in the yard of the building where he lived, near the corner of Mill St. The building is in process of demolition, and was last occupied by Mr. William Graves as a blacksmith shop.

As before stated, the building is being torn down, and Mr. W. J. Brown, who owns the property, states that last evening his men did their best to clear down the south wall, but without success.

This afternoon, after four men, including little Gerald Kinker and a companion about his own age, were playing in the old building when suddenly the south wall, which had withstood the strength of six men, fell on the little Kinker boy.

The father and mother were heart-broken, the grief of the mother in particular, being terribly bitter, and the sympathy of the neighborhood is being extended to the parents, who have been called upon, without a moment's warning, to face such an awful calamity.

Dr. W. J. Brown, visited the scene, and expressed the opinion that no inquest was necessary.

The unfortunate young victim was a very bright and lovable boy, a favorite with his playmates and all who knew him.

SIGNIFICANT PROTEST.

ALLEN DIED FROM POISON.
Proceedings Against Man and Woman Charged Murder Yesterday.
Brockville, June 9.—That the dead Harry Allen came to his death at Lan-down, June 8, 1905, through poison, but whether as food or administered by parties with malicious forethought, has not yet been definitely determined. The evidence presented to us thus far, however, points more strongly to the latter.

The above verdict was rendered by the coroner's jury empaneled at Lansdowne to hear the evidence relating to the death of Allen, who was a farmer in that locality.

A phase of the case was thought to implicate Mrs. Allen, the testimony of William O'Connor, a farm hand, employed by Allen, forming the basis of this explanation on account of her alleged relations with him before and after her husband's death.

O'Connor went so far as to swear that Mrs. Allen asked him to marry her if he disposed of Allen.

The question of the purchase of arsenic by O'Connor resulted in him being taken into custody with Mrs. Allen a month ago, when the lawsuit was first opened and adjourned to get the case cleared up.

Witnesses of arsenic were found, and the fact that the arsenic was in the house in the possession of Allen's children, could not now how the arsenic had been used.

The charges against Mrs. Allen and O'Connor, which will now be dropped on the advice of the Crown Attorney unless something new turns up which is not in sight at present.

The virtue lies in the struggle, not in the victory—Blaugheim.

Mr. Preston Should Fly. "He Is So Good, You Know. He Has Wings," Says Alf. Jury.

Some Remarks in the Agriculture Committee Were Personal—Dan Derbyshire and Mr. Wright Exchange Compliments at Ottawa. Mr. Jury in Sarcastic Vein—Preston Owned Canadian Labor Bureau, Says Witnesses.

Ottawa, June 9.—The meeting of the Agriculture Committee on agricultural yesterday morning witnessed some lively altercation between members and among of angry evidence from the witnesses, Mr. Alfred Jury.

At the opening of the committee Mr. Jury explained that he was in error at a former session when he said that he had not seen Mr. Derbysire. He said that he had seen Mr. Derbysire at a certain place, but that he had not seen him at the time of the meeting.

Mr. Derbysire asked him to explain what he meant by saying he had applied for a letter in the House of Commons. Mr. Jury said that he had applied for a letter in the House of Commons, but that he had not seen Mr. Derbysire at the time of the meeting.

Mr. Derbysire said that he had seen Mr. Jury at the time of the meeting, and that he had seen him at the time of the meeting.

Mr. Jury said that he had seen Mr. Derbysire at the time of the meeting, and that he had seen him at the time of the meeting.

Some Vanity in It.
Mr. Jury went on to say that he learned from the agents that Mr. Preston would not advertise their official position, while he always advertised his own.

"Some vanity in it," suggested a member.

"Yes," said Mr. Jury, "some vanity in it." "I thought of Manitoba made a little speech to the effect that the committee was not advertising their official position, while he always advertised his own."

"Very good," commented Mr. Derbysire.

"Oh, we don't care for that. I thought of Manitoba made a little speech to the effect that the committee was not advertising their official position, while he always advertised his own."

Dufford, a Canadian, who was in the city of Quebec, his term as lieutenant-governor of British Columbia, had completed, that the reason for the permanent cancellation of all remuneration in the nature of a public reward was a dangerous stroke of apoplexy which his honor suffered, and which he never recovered from.

Sketch of His Career.

The late Hon. Richard John Seddon was born at Erection, Lancashire, in 1845, and emigrated to Australia in 1867, where he carried on his business of mechanical contractor. Returning to New Zealand, he was elected M.P. for the House of Representatives, and has held his seat ever since. In New Zealand he enjoyed unqualified confidence and popularity and was recently again returned to power by a large majority of votes. His career was marked by additional credit that he should have been during the last of his life, a most interesting and educational.

Mr. Northrup's Speech

ON THE NORTH ATLANTIC TRADING COMPANY IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Mr. A. C. Maclean. I am not talking about the principle, I am talking about what took place; and I say the hon. gentleman cannot give any evidence that will substantiate his statement.

Mr. Northrup. I refer the honorable member to the files, and I tell him that he will find in the files the names of even the vessels in which these people came out, and the complaints that they were being sent to Winnipeg when they were deported to the United States. Now I take it for granted that the officials of this Government have some means of tracing out some of the means by which they would be in the position in which they were placed. Read these reports or reports, and you will see whether or not the officials at Winnipeg considered the country of origin of the persons being deported, and that I find this

THE DOCTORS AGREE.
Two Physicians Both Agree on The New Scientific Dandruff Treatment.
Dr. J. M. Powell, of Spokane, Wash., says: "Meripol has given good satisfaction in my family for dandruff."

MRS. A. J. DOWLING.

Two quarts of water, slicing the soap into thin shavings and letting it boil until it is all dissolved. Fill a tub with lukewarm water and add enough of the hot suds to make a good lather. Dip the dress in and rub it well. Do not rub the soap on it, for it will leave a white mark. Wring it out with the hands, not with a wringer.

Another water with a little more of the soda. It is much soiled. Then wring it again and dip into lye-water to rinse it and make it very blue with the blue bag. Shake it out thoroughly after wringing it and dry to the shade until damp enough to iron on the wrong side. It must not be dried entirely before it is ironed. Colored woolen or cotton stockings can be washed in the same way and rinsed in strong salt and water, to keep the colors from running. Instead of blue

Toasting the Hair.
The abominable fashion of "teasing" the hair is responsible for much of the untidy hairdressing of today. To the initiated one must explain that "teasing" means combing the hair the wrong way so as to make it appear thick and fluffy. It ruins the hair eventually by breaking it and making it fall out, but even the prospect of fa-

The home bidness will not keep the girls from doing it. If it were very becoming there might be some excuse for it, but whoever yet saw a "teased" pompadour that did not look exceedingly unlavishly and untidy? If Mrs. Pompadour could come to life and see some of the monstrosities patterned after the fashion she originated she would be overcome with remorse and chagrin.

A Dressmaking Hint.

The home dressmaker often has such trouble in fitting better. A good idea is to buy one and one-half yards strong lining and cut out a perfectly fitting bodice pattern to come five or six inches below the waist line. Bone the bodice with a strong lining and trim the edges with a wide ribbon. Instead of hooks and eyes sew together down the front, then stuff the lining firmly with sawdust, shaping it to the proper form. Sew a strong lining across the bottom so as to stand on a table. Add a stock collar at neck, with pieces of lining across the top. This makes a most useful garment for cleaning the machine. Also for fitting collars and yokes.

To Clean Glass Globes

To clean glass globes wash them with soap and water to which a little lemon juice has been added. The globes should be gotten quite dry before the use of the cloth to look white.

that grease settling in the roughness is hard to remove by soap and water alone. Even by the help of a brush, the hands have been carefully scrubbed in the manner recommended. It is not dry them with a cloth, but after allowing the water to run on the hands for while let them drain dry.

Keeblest Overcoats. Ornamental overcoats to protect the hands from working at a desk can be made out of these pretty colored bordered handkerchiefs so numerous and inexpensive in slope. Cut the cloth in the size of the two keebles together in such a manner that the remaining corner runs up in a point above the elbow, while the other corner runs down to the wrist, and the cuff. The seam of the over-

The Borrowing Habit.

To say that one should never borrow is carrying the matter a bit far, but it is a good rule to avoid the habit of borrowing. Look out for your own stock of household supplies so that you will not be continually and daily running out of sugar, butter, salt, flour or any other staple and regularly need the article. If you must borrow, however, make it a point of honor to pay and return with like measure and without being reminded of the obligation.

For Renting.

Ten cents worth of crude oil thoroughly mixed with half a bushel of hardwood will supply a satisfactory kindling.

Children's Garters. The tension of a child's garters is a subject that every mother should pay attention to. Tight garters produce leucorrhoea, and the little girl will surely bring discomfort. See that there is not sufficient pull to hold the stockings up. More than this will cause the child's hands to come forward.

Hair Mattresses. In buying a hair mattress choose one that is filled with hair rather than white hair, as the latter has generally been bleached, which deprives it of spring; and

CONTROL OF ENERGY...

Is Possible For the Human Race to Avert Extinction?

The only conceivable way in which the human intelligence can ever succeed in averting the "procession of the great year" is not by postponing the issue, but by reversing the process.

ing question is this: while energy is being dissipated in accordance with the natural law, can we so manipulate things as to accumulate energy, making the unavailable available—notwithstanding the fact that cosmic processes seem to be essentially irreversible? Now there is assuredly no inherent reason why we should not accomplish this. It is true that hitherto all the cosmic evolution that has been observed is atomic disintegration. We may speak now, indeed, of the analysis of the elements. But, so it was, we any remember, that the older chemistry began, and yet analytic chemistry was the precursor of synthetic chemistry. We began by breaking up compounds, but now we can make them—can, indeed, make compounds unknown to nature. Similarly, it is more than probable that we all are long learn to achieve the synthesis of the elements as well as their analysis. No energy is ever lost, and the elements are themselves

When it reunites atoms, takes the field of the uranium atom, breaks down and dissipates its energy, ending, it is supposed, as the dull atom of lead. Are original energies are not destroyed, why should they not be gathered up again and thus again become available? Are matter and energy to go on their way, ultimately destroying the human race? For myself, I incline to the view that victory will rest at last with "man's unconquerable mind."—

LEZARDS OF BARBADOS.
They Can Change Color and Drop Their Tails at Will.
 The green lizards which swarm on the trees and shrubs of Barbados are the fiercest and hardest of any creatures in Barbados, since their flesh is so delicate that everything eats them which can catch them. They are also the most voracious, devour the poor lizards, which have two methods of defending themselves, both very inadequate for the purpose. The first consists in changing their color, when they are surprised, whereby they can appear as bright green at one moment and as black at another. They can also drop their tails on a place of damp earth, where the tail does not grow again. If their enemy they drop their tails. The usual appendage jumps from the and makes a frantic dash for it. Each lizard has a small hole in its back, into which it is able to draw its tail, so that it can escape and grow another tail.

The rest the poor lizards are harmless things, with pathetic eyes, in which lurks an expression of weariness and disillusion, as though they had been through the world and found it all vanity and vexation of spirit. They are food of plautive mud-eaters, and will enter at the open windows of a plautive man's house, and sit looking and nodding their queer flat heads at the player till he is weary, if not the player till he is we, if of an impatient plautive temperament, if they were playing to an audience of unenlightened souls.—Chambers' Jour-

Cigar Smoke and Love.—In Slam the lighting of a cigar indicates a betrothal. In that country a girl who wishes to be married to a girl of his choice offers her a flower takes a light from a cigar or a cigarette if she happens to have one in her mouth, and, if the girl has no objection, no impediment in the birth months and years of the respective parties, the couple are at once taken to arrange for the payment of the bride price. The dowry of the bride and bridegroom have to cash to provide at least $1,000. In Cuba, as in certain parts of India, a lighted taper, a lit cigarette or a lit cigar is accepted as the pledge for the end of a lady in marriage. In Siberia it is the custom that when a suitor has been accepted by a girl he presents her with a lit cigar and a glass of wine.

There is one curious fact respecting animal creation with which you will never become acquainted if you do not read the Bible with its infirmities. It is this: No living representation of the animal kingdom has more than five toes, digits or claws to each foot, hand or foot. The horse is the type of one toed creature; the camel of a two toed; the rhinoceros of the three toed; and the hippopotamus of the four toed. The number of toes and different of other animals belonging to hundreds of orders belong to the vast five toed tribe.

after the Chicago canal met resistance, it has been the imperial authorities that there are such places as the colonies in which to buy such things. Canada is not anxious to be called a colony but is willing to sell the goods. Our neighbors to the south are in Canada, keeping pretty close "tab" on Canada, and the following, from the Government, is a leader, making interesting and pleasant reading for patriotic Canadians:

"In the same season ending March last the number of immigrants who entered the Dominion of Canada from the United States was 30,777. That is at the rate of over 14,000 a year.

In the same period Canada received 54,000 immigrants from the British Isles and other parts of Europe. A year's immigration, at the same monthly rate, would be 74,000 in round figures.

"It will be seen that the total emigration to the Dominion is likely to be about 114,000 for the year ending June 30. The figures for the United States for the same period will probably reach 150,000. It is certainly clear that the Dominion is about to be flooded with immigrants of the United States.

more good than harm. We feel much relieved.

By a happy dispensation of nature the longest days of the year occur in the hour-month month, which is all too short for the June bride, even at that.

Spite of our great strides in political and moral philosophy, it remains an open question with distinction whether a lie is best met with a lie.

Women of the world will enjoy the men's fashion, but who would've have thought that poor Lady Lam Ock, with his buttoned back, would not set the style for the warts that do up at the back?

Commander Buck-Tucker will marry Dol. Read. This is rather startling, but the fact is that the Salvation Army fancies happen to wear shoulder straps as well as men, and in this instance the Colonel is none other than Miss Emma Read.

Queen Victoria of Spain is rightly said to be now holding forth in Alfonso. And, moreover, there is grave reason to doubt whether Dr. Witt was thinking of Alfonso when he granted his famous lease about the mind being the measure of the man.

Her. Dr. Torry, the famous translator of the now holding forth in Ottawa, is giving "revels" these days. He is, in fact, one of the recent discourses, he severely discountenances fashionable gambling, saying: "Gentlemen, when you gamble and win a life! everyone who gambles and loses is a fool. So he who gambles is either a thief or a fool," he asserted when he touched on the commandment against theft. He continued: "I don't know how it is here, but I know how it is in England, and how it is getting to be in the States, how it is becoming the fashion for responsible people to turn their houses into gambling halls; for men to become adept at bridge and travelling young professional men for weeks-end and outside them out all their money. There has been tragedy after tragedy in what has been called 'high society' of unexpect-ingly large invited into bridge parties where they are out of their for money, and when the night is over they are required to wait side of the result. I want to say on outside, and more than that can, either, if possible, than what old as the result. I want to say what a woman's face can do

Only three of the eighteen appointees are understood to have been asked by the Premier to accept positions on the board. For that it is known, some of them may decline to act.

Power of Board.
The powers of the board of governors are wide. Section 21 of the new act says: "The Government, conduct, management and control of the University and of University College, and of the property, revenues, funds, and affairs thereof, shall be vested in the board."

Under the act, the board has the largest representation, with six, while the Government has only three. The board also has the right to elect the President, a member of the University of Toronto, who is now Principal Leacock, and the chancellor, who is Sir William Ralph Meredith.

INDIAN BLAVER CAUGHT.
Johnnie Jackson Will Pay Penalty For Four Years.

Victoria, B. C., June 20.—John Jackson, a well-known Indian blaver, was caught yesterday night on Brex Island, while selling in the street of a doctored picture of the late President McKinley. Jackson will be taken to Vancouver for trial in the morning.

This makes the fourth murder that the notorious Indian has committed in 24 years.

Swift Justice in Philadelphia.
Philadelphia, June 20.—Joseph Keen, the kidnaper of Freddie Muth, was sentenced yesterday to ten years without bail to await the action of the grand jury. The grand jury found in fact that Keen and he was given an immediate trial and convicted in less than an hour. Judge Hulsizer sentenced the prisoner to ten years.

From the time of Keen's arrest until he was out of the way, the effort to bring sentence less than 24 hours had elapsed.

Double Rations From Dressing.
Detroit, June 20.—Harvey and Wilfred Adams, twin sons of Alex. Paul Adams, were heavily rewarded from the Government for their services in a raid in the Ontario River and the capture of a large number of fish. They could swim. Herbert Rogers, the superintendent of the Trent, Ca., was also heavily rewarded for his services in each hand and swimming to shore.

Fined by Iron Bar.
Waterbury, June 20.—Monday night, Wilfred Adams, son of Alex. Paul Adams, of the Wire Press Co., was standing near a rapidly moving boat, holding in his hand a bar of iron about two feet long. This is the thing you quite frequently see in the ballroom—men's black dresses, literally covered with diamonds.

It must be annoying to the wear-to observe, that diamonds can be exchanged into a mere dress—which may say some halfpence.

Nowadays diamonds are the destroying grain, and stimulate the body to a rich, healthy growth—more—more the half self and glad.

Sunlight SOAP

Clothes washed by Sunlight Soap are cleaner and whiter than if washed in any other way.

Chemicals in soap may remove the dirt but always injure the fabric. Sunlight Soap will remove the most dainty lace or the hands that use it because it is absolutely pure and contains no injurious chemicals.

Sunlight Soap should always be used at dinner. No boiling or hard rubbing is necessary. Sunlight Soap is better than soap, but is best used in the Sunlight way.

Crimes and Careers

By BOOTH TARKINGTON.
Author of "The Gentlemen from Indiana" and "Fenderson's Revenge"

slightly shook his head. March and the general started with surprise and started to rise. "The man," he said, "has been his head!" If the signal had been for a church meeting they might have understood.

Mr. Gray's conduct was surprising to two other people at the table. The first was Tom Yarnell and Fenderson, the former by his sudden devotion to the law; the latter by his sudden devotion to law. In a breath he became almost a domestic chambermaid.

Miss Barford was even happier than she was astonished, and she was slightly astonished to find her betrothed delivering a taste for her society alone. Fenderson also had counted on the gayety of her home to keep her from her work, but now, however, he told her tenderly he wanted to have her all to himself. This was not the kind of love that Fenderson did not question.

The Baroness in Fionn, Mrs. Barford, a southerner, liked to persuade the visitor that her home was not her bedroom only for her, which was that of the table. Barford, however, lived so well that he gave up walking, which did not trouble him, but he was given up dancing, which did trouble him. In Crutcher Gray's promise to invent for him a couple to invent.

There was a faint, smiling shadow of a son, Jefferson, who lived upon earth, gave and derided, and there were the two daughters, Frances and Virginia. The latter was twenty or thereabouts, a small, good natured, and very pretty, a girl who had handed down to her, after with the best grace in the world, after with the best grace in the world.

Ed. F. Dickens, CATERER.

British Trade Expansion.

The foreign trade of Great Britain has increased so rapidly since 1904 that a description in the form of expansion would not have passed away very much surprised. The London statistic in substantiating a comparative statement of trade figures for the past five years, reveals that the rate of growth seems to have been accelerated recently of diminished. For the month of May of the present year, exports of British products have increased $4,417,000 in per cent compared with May of last year, and $7,476,000 or 30.4 per cent compared with May, 1906. Three figures, remarkable in themselves, are the most satisfactory in that they represent more than a 30 per cent advance during the present year. For the first five months of 1908 exports from the United Kingdom showed an increase of $20,488,000 over the corresponding period of 1906, and $22,912,000 over the corresponding period of 1904. That is, the rate of increase since last year is 14.5 per cent, and since the previous year 20.4 per cent. The statistics for May alone show that the rate of increase for the total exports for 1908 will be $20,488,000. The figures for the first five months of 1908 were $20,488,000. The expansion in the import and re-export trade is also marked. For the first five months the increase was $23,489,000 or 10.6 per cent, in comparison with the first five months of 1906, and $23,909,000 in comparison with the first five months of 1904. The figures for May are in keeping with the previous period, showing a comparative increase of 9.08 and 11.09 per cent over May, 1907 and 1904. The imports for the first five months of 1908, compared with the first five months of 1906, increased $23,909,000 and re-exports of colonial and foreign merchandise $11,000,000. The expansion in the export trade is also marked. For the first five months of 1908, the net imports were $23,909,000.

Japan among the Asiatic, as Great Britain among the European, also shows signs of the general prosperity. The war has strengthened the position of two powers, who are seeking quantities. Recent indications show that the Japanese Government is seeking quantities. Recent indications show that the Japanese Government is seeking quantities. Recent indications show that the Japanese Government is seeking quantities.

Mr. Miller, in a statement forwarded from Yokohama, says that while the number of industrial companies operating in Japan in 1906 was 1,367, with a capital of $14,000,000, in 1908 they had increased to 2,261, with a capital of $24,000,000. Japan's industrial exports are going to China and other Oriental countries where she is rapidly extending her trade.

Fisher's Humbug About Free Trade.

It was a charming sight to see the Hon. Sydney A. Fisher stand up at the Broderick banquet the other evening and state that for the past ten years of unexampled prosperity Canada owed a great debt to the Government, which had allowed the people to reap the full benefit of their toil. This says the Montreal Herald, is presumably meant that the Government had wiped away the last vestige of protection from the Canadian tariff. It may fairly be supposed that this is what is meant, for Mr. Fisher is the foremost acknowledged free trader in the Laurier Cabinet. When Sir Ritchie Cartwright takes the floor tomorrow, says he does it in a mournful, apologetic manner. Mr. Fielding is likewise a free trader, but is a man growing more and more discreet in proclaiming the fact. But Mr. Fisher is still rampant. He was one of the speakers of the application of a wide and beneficent protection to the prosperity of Canada. The figures, however, do not sustain the honorific guarantee of the Minister of Finance, that during the last five years of Conservative administration the average rate of duty on the total value of goods imported into Canada, duty-free, has averaged 34.28 per cent.

Mr. Fielding is likewise a free trader, but is a man growing more and more discreet in proclaiming the fact. But Mr. Fisher is still rampant. He was one of the speakers of the application of a wide and beneficent protection to the prosperity of Canada. The figures, however, do not sustain the honorific guarantee of the Minister of Finance, that during the last five years of Conservative administration the average rate of duty on the total value of goods imported into Canada, duty-free, has averaged 34.28 per cent.

It is a charming sight to see the Hon. Sydney A. Fisher stand up at the Broderick banquet the other evening and state that for the past ten years of unexampled prosperity Canada owed a great debt to the Government, which had allowed the people to reap the full benefit of their toil. This says the Montreal Herald, is presumably meant that the Government had wiped away the last vestige of protection from the Canadian tariff. It may fairly be supposed that this is what is meant, for Mr. Fisher is the foremost acknowledged free trader in the Laurier Cabinet. When Sir Ritchie Cartwright takes the floor tomorrow, says he does it in a mournful, apologetic manner. ent, while during the last 5 years of the Laurier administration the duty has averaged 34.28 per cent. Therefore, if we are to take Mr. Fisher as an authority, taxation at the rate of 34.28 per cent is a good proof of goods imported is harmful protection, while taxation at the rate of 34.28 per cent is a good proof of goods imported is harmful protection, while taxation at the rate of 34.28 per cent is a good proof of goods imported is harmful protection.

NORWAY'S NEW RULERS

King and Queen of the People Crowned at Trondheim.

Impressive Religious Ceremony at the Cathedral—People Wore National Costs, But Silent, and Occasionally Broke into Cheers—President of the Storting Gave the First "God Save the King and Queen."

Trondheim, June 22.—Coronation Day opened yesterday with a glowing but cold sun shining. The city was alive at an early hour, and by 4 o'clock the armies reaching to the cathedral were filled with straggling lines of people making for the chief points of vantage from which to see King Haakon and Queen Maud, both in smiling robes, and the distinguished guests enter the cathedral. The doors were opened at 11 a. m., and soon afterwards three balds robes in black and white, drove up in a phalanx. The monarchs, with the bishops entered the cathedra.

The arrival of the bishops was followed by the appearance of a summery prince, all robed in white. The royal and special embassies were at lastwards began arriving. The Prince and Princess of Wales entered at 11:45 a. m.

King and Queen Start.
The King and Queen after a brief delay in consulting the cardinals and other courtiers, started for the cathedra, preceded by their suite, a great cavalcade of the departure of the hundred. The King smiled and was impulsively the satisfaction of the people. The crowd suddenly was immense, and the people generally were in a state of excitement. Occasionally, however, there was an outbreak of cheer.

The royal couple, drawn by light handsome bays, led by footmen, passed their Majesties were received by the bishops in an invocation.

The ceremony of opening King Haakon and Queen Maud was stirring and solemn in its significance. The city from the cathedral to the hill batteries, houses, and the buildings over the city and harbor.
The King and Queen were commenced immediately afterwards. Her Majesty, who is of a cheerful and retiring disposition, bravely faced the ceremony. She looked dainty and attractive.

Get Save King and Queen.
When the newly-crowned King and Queen returned to their thrones after the Episcopal benediction all the royal princes and special ambassadors saluted their Majesties with deep reverence.
At the termination of the proceedings
the president of the Storting, called out
"God save the King and Queen," and the whole distinguished company heavily took up the cry.

Nothing occurred throughout the ceremony to cause the principal participants the slightest uneasiness.
Congratulations.
On their return to the palace the King and Queen received the congratulations of a delegation from the Storting and the members of the Government.
The next thing outside the palace was out into cheering in response to their Majesties' appearance at the window, still wearing the coronation robes.
Celebrated at London.
London, June 23.—All the British naval and military stations yesterday celebrated the coronation of King Ha-kon and Queen Maud of Norway with feasts of merriment. In addition the warships "dressed ship" and the bells of Windsor were rung.

The light bread or the leaden loaf is a matter of choice—not luck. Choice of method—choice of yeast—but, above all, in the choice of the flour. She who chooses

Royal Household Flour

will not have to bargain with fortune for successful baking.—It is made from the finest, selected Manitoba wheat, which contains more gluten (that quality which makes bread light) than any other wheat.

It is milled under the most sanitary conditions—absolute purity is one very important quality which the Ogilvie System of milling guarantees. There is no other flour in Canada upon which so much is spent to insure its perfect purity.

Ask your grocer for Ogilvie's Royal Household—the mills that make light bread.

ROOF GARDEN MURDER.

Harry Thru Kills Prominent Architect of New York For Writing the Oct.

New York, June 25.—Harold White, the eminent architect, a member of the firm of McKim, Mead & White, was last night and almost instantly killed by Harry Thru, a member of a prominent Pittsburgh family, during the performance on the roof of the Madison Square Garden. Mr. White died before an ambulance could be summoned and Thru was arrested immediately after the shooting.

Thru's victim was seated with a woman, and he exclaimed: "You've deserved this—you've ruined my home!" and drawing an automatic pistol, fired three shots. The first two had effect. It was reported that the woman who accompanied Mr. White was Evelyn Nash, whose marriage with Thru attracted the latter from his native Pennsylvania.

Thru headed the policeman off, and asked him to notify an American agent who he was in trouble. Thru, it is alleged, said to the woman: "Deserve what he got. He ruined my life and deserted the girl."

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 26.—Harry Kendall Thru is about 30 years of age, and is the son of the late Wm. Thru, who was vice-president of the Pittsburgh Steel Works. It was while in Paris that he met Evelyn Nash, an actress, whom he afterwards married. Thru is a brother of the Countess of Yarmouth, who was Alice Thru.

SEVEN STUDENTS GUILTY.

Decision Given in the Bribery Exam.

Baltimore, June 25.—Seven of the students who have been under investigation by the Providence School Department for alleged corrupt practices at the departmental examination have been found guilty. The department received advice that their examinations have been tampered with, and a consequent prohibition from writing again for two years.

It is expected that some of those against whom judgment has thus been given will appeal the decision, which comes after seven months' inquiry, through the courts.

INDICT STREET CAR MEN.

If Causes For 21 Deaths In 50 Days.

Chicago, June 25.—Indictment of the profane and leading officials of the various Chicago Traction Companies will be sought by Mayor James D. Thompson and police department. The companies are not given him convincing the reasons for the deaths of 21 persons killed by street railway corporations. Dr. Jolly, superintendent of street car service, has notified the city attorney that within 31 days 21 persons have been killed by cars in Chicago.

The virtue lies in the struggle, and in the prize—Happiness.

Government Wins Case.

Chancellor Boyd Decides In Cobalt Matter.

Alleged Discovery of Claim Had Defects. But His Lordship Finds That There Was No Conspiracy and That Defendants Were Justified in Contesting the Issue—As There Was No Fraud No Costs Are Given.

Toronto, June 25.—The Ontario Government has won in the Cobalt mine case that has developed such serious interest. Chancellor Boyd in his decision claims without costs the losses held by the White Silver Mining Co. Ltd., and C. Hargrave, Ray City, but provides that the latter be indemnified for any expense in improving the property. There was no conspiracy on the part of the government.

His lordship comments on the evidence as showing in contradiction, inconsistencies and singular contrasts of recollection. The case turned upon the point of whether the affidavit of discovery was true or false. The establishment of the fact that the discovery was made by the government alone on the evidence of the men who claiming to have made the discovery, however, his lordship has been convinced that the government was not guilty of fraud, but his sworn claim was that cobalt ore was found in 1901, the ore being markedly different in all respects.

Boyd didn't say. Chancellor Boyd delivered a scathing criticism of the testimony of Mr. Hargrave and Mr. Hargrave, the latter's testimony and the fact that Mr. Hargrave had been in the locality at the time alleged by him. Hargrave could give nothing that would check his own movement.

"I do not find any conspiracy or fraud on the part of the defendants who were ever in the case. They do what was right in attempting to uphold a private interest in their favor, and their conduct is not such that they should be held with costs. They are also entitled to the costs of the Crown for the expenses incurred by them on the lot in so far as it has enhanced its value as a mining property. This is to be ascertained by the master, without costs as either, in case they cannot be ascertained to be the amount.

The National Policy

Every year witnesses of the wisdom and foresight of the leaders of the Conservative party in inaugurating a system of protection to Canadian industries by "tariff walls."

The notice of those who take an interest in Canadian progress and development.

Dealing with this subject, and handling it with the skill of the able editor of the Montreal Star, through the medium of the Montreal Star, W. B. Curtis, secretary of the New York committee of the American-Canadian League.

He gave an address before the Board of Canadian League, in which he showed by statistics that the markets of the world are gradually being closed against the United States.

and strongly advocated closer trade relations with Canada, showing that the result of our commercial policy with that country our manufacturing interests are being sacrificed in Canada mills and factories.

It is fortunate for Canada that our present leaders believe their whole policy is to be based on adopting their opposition free trade policy. Had they done so, Canada would now, as it was before 1870, be the vassal of the masters of the world of our neighbors across the line.

It replies the supporters of the present Government, the Conservative party, of protection, and the "open house" for the simple reason that they are not giving us any opportunity, they would reduce their policy and rule the measure of the moment it was supposed to be the result of power would be the result.

They even now attempted to "change and design" our followers by a declaration that they are not protectionists, but are "revenue tariff" politicians. Those who want to "divert" against this reason, though "very pleasant" as it is.

One Honest Engineer.

The Georgian Bay Canal survey has not been exempt from attempts at "change and design" and the attempt at stealing.

An account of a Grit alderman in Ottawa, who is under the impression that the day by the Public Accounts Committee, when the following interesting facts were brought to light.

Mr. Rainbolt, an engineer in charge of a station on the Georgian Bay Canal survey, was a witness to the examination he deposed that he had out drew amounts of the alderman for horses, rails, lights, etc., and gave as his reason for doing so that the price amounted to extravagant robbery, and declared that several horses, flimsy rails and second-hand lights were paid for out of the Government's pocket.

Mr. Rainbolt was asked, "Did Cunningham ever use any permission to get you to pass his accounts?"

Why everybody likes Abbey's Salt.

It is so pleasant to the taste that children take it with pleasure. It does not "clog" or "flake" on top of the water.

It effervesces slowly—may be drunk hot or cold, without choking or binding the water like other powders.

The granules all dissolve—thus the full benefit of the salt is obtained with every dose.

It is the ideal laxative and tonic to purify the blood, regulate stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels—and build up the system.

(Central Star) I want to hear the old songs sung by these men. The time that after the first hour of the morning, when I heard in the twilight's dreamy haze, the old songs to their hearts' content, I was one to love them.

THE CHINESE CUSTOMS SERVICE. For 43 years Sir Robert Hart has been Inspector-General of Customs and the Chinese Government is under definite obligations to China to retain him in that position & to designate as his successor. Recently, however, an Imperial edict was published at Peking, appointing two Chinese as superintendent and associate minister of customs affairs, and placing under their control all Chinese and foreigners employed in the various offices of the service. It is supposed that the ultimate purpose is to divert a part of the customs revenue to military use, but the possible consequences are so serious that the British Government has demanded of China and has received assurance that the first contemplation is violation of the formal agreement of the Chinese Government.

No man should marry unless he is by nature a "good provider"—unless he has a wife he has to have, for the future when they are obliged to give their wives a dollar a day for the day's maintenance, men should remain single. Otherwise they will make their wives and fathers as our old friend Crut.

Crut's daughter said one afternoon in a tone of matter-of-factness: "Papa went away quite gay after he'd finished the morning." Mrs. Crut made an exclamation of surprise. "That means," said Crut, "I forgot to ask him for any money."

There was company to dinner one night and the little girl, pointing to her plate, said in a loud voice: "Oh, mamma, what is this?" The thing was a hair, but the mother, red with confusion, said: "Hush, dear, that is a crack in the plate."

The child cried in a little louder voice: "The crack is in my head!"

"Oh, mamma, look! I can move this crack about!"

THE FLIPFLOP-FLAP STORY. A quack medicine vendor stood in a carriage selling a cough cure. To explain the construction of the device he said:

"Ladies and gents, in your throat is two little flaps, one closing when swallowing food and opening to remove drink, and the other closing when swallowing liquids and opening to remove food only. Now, if the two flaps are out of order, interrupted, blistering out, cough, matter, what a filthy-flap they must be!"

Jerome K. Jerome, in the English humorist, was talking about good writing.

"What I like," said Mr. Jerome, "is that I try for it, is a picturesque and vivid style, and my words to set real pictures before my reader's eyes. This gift W. V. Jacobs has, and Stephen Crane, a man of genius, had it in perfection."

Mr. Jerome added:

"A child said it, too," he said. "I said: 'I like to write like Lewis, the best I know of.' The child attended a little concert in the school one night during the voyage, and on going home afterwards described the concert to his mother."

"What was on, Bobby?" his mother asked.

"He, with a frown, replied: 'There was a lady screaming because she had forgot to put on her shoes, and a hotel waiter played on the piano all the time.'"

A man arose in a woman's meeting, and with a most audacious air, it was that man was per adduced to saying selfish things about her as another as women were.

LAUGHTER.

Even if in the remotest hamlet, let us have plenty of it. Some English scientist has reached the conclusion that laughter is a luxury. It repeats a lot of laughter as an essential part of a man's life.

All right, then, give us a little more in the way of laughter. It is enough in the world—let the right kind of laughter keep the right kind of laughter. It is enough in the world—let the right kind of laughter keep the right kind of laughter.

BUGGLING.

It was considered a legitimate protest. A book by J. C. Wright entitled "The Bug" was published in 1914. It was a book about the bug, and it was a book about the bug.

What I like, said Mr. Jerome, "is that I try for it, is a picturesque and vivid style, and my words to set real pictures before my reader's eyes. This gift W. V. Jacobs has, and Stephen Crane, a man of genius, had it in perfection."

IN TORONTO THE GOOD.

Two Prominent Business Men Under Oath Give Each Other the Lie—Prove It For Non-Workers.

Toronto, June 29.—Pursuant to a commitment yesterday afternoon in connection with the criminal investigation, two prominent Toronto business men gave each other the lie under oath.

Thomas Douglas, roofing contractor on St. Lawrence Market where he paid several sums of money to Archibell Bennett Jarvis, who was charged of the work.

Archibell Bennett Jarvis denied it absolutely and positively. He swore that money had been offered to him by Mr. Douglas and he had refused it. Thomas Douglas also swore he had paid sums of money to J. W. Hildart, another architect on the work.

Archibell J. W. Hildart swore that he had received the money which Mr. Douglas claimed to have paid to him. The money was for legitimate work.

Thomas Douglas corroborated this. Douglas Hildart, bookkeeper for several years of Jarvis and charged to J. W. Hildart, who was in the firm, the money which he had paid to J. W. Hildart to pay the bookkeeper.

Chapman also swore he had taken over money which he supposed contained money to Mr. Jarvis, who put it in his pocket.

Archibell Jarvis swore he refused money from the construction of the work as from Mr. Douglas.

Another fact brought out was that two others for the roof work at the north end of St. Lawrence Market, one $200 each for not doing the work.

On the very first contract, two men were paid $120 each, two more $120 each and the contractor who did the work did not make any money at all.

The above are the features which made the criminal inquiry decidedly interesting yesterday. There is one more contractor, who is from Preston, to give evidence.

Stilettoes Were Used In Italian Strike Riot In the Limestone City.

Two Officers of the Law Seriously Wounded—Disastrous Italian Natives Retaliated on Police Who Clubbed Them Into Submission—Man Thought to Have Done Stabbing Arrested With Nine Others.

Kington, July 29.—Two officers of the law were seriously wounded with stilettoes in the hands of Italian demonstrators at a riot following a strike of 100 dockworkers yesterday. The riot broke out when the police, who had been sent by the authorities to quell the demonstration, and the mayor and police magistrate called on the regular troops.

The riot occurred at the outer depot. About 100 men, who were employed by the Grand Truck repair shop, the road, yesterday morning they became dissatisfied with their wages. They have been getting $4.00 per day, and want $1.45. They boarded and slept on the cars at the depot.

Yesterday morning the railway force men ordered them to make up a train and proceed to Collins' Park to work, and then trouble began. The strikers assembled on the station platform and raised a disturbance.

Special G. V. R. Agent McEwan and Detective James Harriott, arrived on train No. 1 from the east and endeavored to quell the riot. The police were telephoned for and Sgt. Nesbitt, P. C. Naylor and McEwan hastened to the scene.

Fought With Clubs.
The rioters were gathered on the platform making all kinds of threats. The policemen ordered them off, and when they refused to obey drew their clubs and endeavored to put them off by force.

Thereupon the strikers drew knives and revolvers and started to attack the officers. Mr. McEwan and Detective Harriott came to the assistance of the police, and a fierce fight ensued. The officers of the law were not armed with revolvers, but fought manfully with their clubs and did great service.

Knowing about a score of the strikers' names. The latter were ordered to retreat, however, and the police were finally forced to beat the strikers, pushing them by the back of the head and forcing them to retreat.

Shed by Striker.
In the fight Police Sgt. Nesbitt was being stabbed open with a stiletto from the back by the strikers. The Police Agent McEwan was also seen near the strikers, who were attacking him for his position as a strikers' foe. He sustained a deep stab with a stiletto in the abdomen.

The police brought the two wounded men back to the city and drove them to the hospital. Sgt. Nesbitt's surgery Mr. McEwan was later removed to the General Hospital. P. C. Naylor and Harriott escaped unhurt. They claim that it was the strikers that they were shot at.

Revolvers were drawn by the dozen and many shots fired. The police were all armed with knives and fought like tigers, but they had not the means of the strikers.

Detective Harriott carried a leather bag, which he exhibited, showing where his heavy arm in the scuffle had been ripped by the force of the blows dealt.

When the police returned to the city they were met by a large crowd. At the riot were shot. After a brief moment the strikers were ordered to disperse. A regular troop, and a call was made for the strikers to disperse. A prompt response was met with and the strikers were ordered to disperse.

The Intercolonial.

JUST IT DOES NOT PAY.

The Ministerial press are just now splashing over the promise made by the Minister of Railways and Canals, that the Intercolonial Railway is to pay its way this year. Yams will tell the light, which has been let in upon the management of the road, somewhat for its running as a money-making machine.

The Atlantic-Canada report gives us figures which show considerably more than the management of the road, somewhat for its running as a money-making machine.

The expense of management before, during, and after election, is portrayed as follows:

Election of 1900: Year before election, surplus $10,000 Election year, deficit — 48,100 Year after election, surplus 50,000

Year before election, deficit 90,000 Election year, deficit — 170,000 Year after election, deficit — 170,000

That the figures will show hereafter, we must leave for the publication of the Auditor-General's report, to see.

How these extra expenses are incurred is explained by the Minister delivered in the House of Commons by Mr. Martin, M. P. for Dorchester, on the 27th inst.
